

Girls with dreams become women with visión

A History of Me

Adrea Theodore

"What do I see when I look at me?" this book looks at history and admits that history is hard, but also offers a different, empowering point of view- the narrator is a reflection of the powerful women that have come before her, of the intelligence, resilience, and resourcefulness that have been passed down through the generations. Her history is a source of pride, a reason to sit up straight and recognize everything beautiful and powerful in herself.

What really matters is what we see when we look in the mirror, and what we want to become.

Maya Lin : artist-architect of light and lines

Jeanne Walker Harvey

Often, we admire and revere our national monuments without giving much thought to those who thought of, designed, and created them. This is the story of the Maya Lin, the artist-architect of the Vietnam War Memorial and its story.

Also as an ebook

Caroline's comets

Emily Arnold McCully

A long long time ago, (over 250 years ago!) Caroline Herschel lived. She was unmarried and had to work for a living, so she worked for and then with her brother, sharing a love and a dream of finding new stars and things in the night skies. Caroline would be the first woman to discover a comet and the first woman to be paid as a scientist.

Drum dream girl : how one girl's courage changed music

Margarita Engle

A girl with a passion for drumming dreams of playing music in this upbeat story based on the life of Cuban musician Millo Castro Zaldarriaga. Told repeatedly that girls cannot be drummers, she refuses to give up, practicing in secret and delighting in every bit of music around her. An open minded music teacher results in lessons and, eventually, the opportunity to perform in public. Vibrant, warm, and hopeful, this expressive story shows the power of perseverance and the importance of following your dreams.

Also as an ebook

In the Meadow of Fantasies

Haft asb, haft rang

هفت اسب، هفت رنگ

Mohammad Hadi Mohammadi.

A young girl with a physical disability gazes up at a mobile of spinning horses from her bed and brings you into a magical fantastical tale that is not quite folktale, not quite poem, and not quite dream, but a beautiful mix of the three.

Also available in Farsi.

